

WHY USE A RECRUITMENT AGENCY?

SPECIALIST RECRUITMENT KNOWLEDGE

By using a recruitment agency, it allows you to be made aware of roles that haven't been advertised to the market yet. The extensive knowledge a recruiter has on the current market situation is invaluable when looking for a new role.

CLEAR LINE OF COMMUNICATION

By sticking with one agency, there is a clearer line of communication between the candidate and agency. It allows both the candidate and recruiter to have an understanding of the employment situation that the candidate is in currently.

YOUR DETAILS WON'T BE DILUTED

Using one recruiter means that your details are treated correctly, only being sent out to relevant companies that have been agreed with you first. This also stops the problem of a company receiving your details twice from multiple agencies.

BUILD A STRONGER RELATIONSHIP WITH THE AGENCY

By using an agency, it allows you to put more trust into the recruiter and they will work harder with you. If the agency have more trust in you, they are more likely to work harder to find you a position that you enjoy and find you a role that fits your desired hours.
